Gen. Linievitch Now in Charge-Order Recalling Kuropatkin Gives No Praise lar With the Troops-Rear Guard Fight Continues as Harassed Army Falls Back

Special Cable Despatches to THE SUN. St. Petersburg, March 17 .- It is officially announced that Gen. Linievitch has been appointed to succeed Gen. Kuropatkin.

Gen Kuropatkin's recall, as published in the Official Messenger, is made in the coldest terms. It does not mention his distinguished services and no thanks are accorded him. The terms in which the announcement is made entirely disprove the assumption that he resigned.

It is understood that Gen. Kuropatkin left Tieling on Wednesday evening for St. Petersburg.

LINIEVITCH DIRECTOR-GENERAL-

PARIS. March 17.-The Petit Parisien says that Grand Duke Nicholas Nicholalevitch, Inspector-General of the Russian cavalry, has been appointed commanderin-chief of the armies in Manchuria; Gen. Linievitch, Director-General; Gen. Sukomlinoff, chief of staff; Gen. Sakharoff, assistant chief of staff; Gen. Kaulbers, commander of the First Army; Gen. Gripenberg, commander of the Second Army; and Gen. Guerschlemann, commander of the Third Army.

A St. Petersburg despatch to the Petit Journal says that Gen. Kuropatkin lost eighty guns at Tieling. His-loss in killed and wounded there is estimated at 19,000. BETREAT TOWARD KAIYUAN.

LONDON, March 18 .- The Tokio correspondent of the Telegraph says that the Japanese occupied Tieling without severe fighting, the main force of the Russians twenty-five miles north of Tieling, to presurely will be repeated in the future. Kaia wide position and does not offer an opportunity for effective resistance. The Japanese are pressing home their advance with splendid dash.

The correspondent adds that Prime Minister Katsura, addressing a meeting of Tokio financiers to celebrate the capture of Mukden, said it would be difficult to predict when the war would end. It would be an enormous task completely to subdue Russia and it would require the whole of the Japanese nation to do it. He hoped that financiers would generously aid the Government. The Prime Minister added that the result thus far of the fighting had been much better than had been anticipated at the beginning of the war. Then it was like entering the gates of death-all was uncertainty.

Many foreigners in Japan are subscribing to the internal loan.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of the Blandard says that the issue of orders for the mobilization of 400,000 fresh troops is definitely expected on Saturday. He reiterates that the Czar is suffering from a nervous breakdown.

KUROPATEIN AND HIS SUCC. 8803.

The supersession of Gen. Kuropatkin isthe central fact in to-day's war news. Except among his enemies he is personally the object of much sympathy. His simple, honest character is well known, and his effect. unrelaxing care of the men of his command is no less familiar. Whether or not his capacity as a General was adequate to his task, it is felt that he has been the victin of numerous adverse circumstances. smong which official corruption and peculation that hampered his resources were not the least disastrous.

According to the St. Petersburg correspondent of the Morning Post, his private despatches vehemently reproach the home authorities for his lack of supplies and charge his officers with being impervious to ideas of military discipline, they being more prone to cavil at orders than to obey them. His successor, Gen. Linievitch, probably will be more acceptable to the remnants of Gen. Kuropatkin's soldiery than anybody except their idol, Kuropatkin. He is reputed to be closer in touch with the rank and file than any other commander who could be appointed. He was never a guardsman or a memter of the Czar's suite. He is just a plain Fear of Disorder When Mebilization of infantry officer, who has forced his way to the top by his personal energy. REAR GUARD FIGHTING

Meanwhile only the most meagre and vaguest news has been received of the actual state of the shattered army, which, according to unofficial reports, is terribly harassed in its retreat. It is compelled continually to fight rear guard actions. Both flanks are being constantly overtaken, forcing them to make ceaseless changes of front.

There is no confirmation of the report that the Russians have been cut off from the north

PEACE MOVEMENT GROWS.

The St. Petersburg correspondent of kin was received at Harbin with despair. | the Times says it is stated that the first act of Gen. Linievitch on taking over the command of the Russian forces in Manchuria was to suspend all press telegrams. All the Generals whom the Czar consulted in Tokio, March 17.-An official report says St. Petersburg, including Grand Duke Nichothat two-thirds of the provisions which las Nicholaievitch, declined to assume Gen.

The correspondent adds that for the first time since the war the rate of excha declined and the bourse was agitated by a umors The Japanese captured many trophies | that the proposed loan in France had failed. The Government intends, in case the internal loan fails, to resort to another issue of lottery bonds.

The correspondent represents March 17 as being one of the most important days of the war. He says that nobody expected the sudden departure of Gen. Kuropatkin from the front. Other circumstances have given 'startling impetus to the peace movement. The conviction is quickly spreading that victory is impossible and that peace is indispensable He quotes a well informed personage as saying that a suspension of hostilities may be expected within a month to permit a consultation between representatives of the Russian nation regarding the terms of peace.

CREMATING DEAD AT MUKDEN. There Were 35.000 Russian Corpses Left on That Field.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. LONDON, March 17 .- Several despatches from correspondents with the Japanese left army, Gen. THE NATIONAL CHAIRMANSHIP

CORTELYOU'S AUTHORITY TO NAME ONE IS QUESTIONED.

Republicans Declare That It Was Understood When Cortelyon Was Fleeted That He Would Resign as Soon as the Campaign Was Over.

WASHINGTON, March 17.-In connection with the gossip going on in Washington relative to the acting chairmanship of the Republican national committee, the question was raised to-day at to whether Chairman Cortelyou has authority to make a selection. The contention is made that whatever power of this kind was vested in the chairman at the time of the organization of the committee in Chicago last June was for the campaign period only.

It is understood that Senator Scott of West Virginia, a member of the national committee and the executive committee. raised this question in conferring with party leaders interested in the party organization. Senator Scott, however, declined to discuss the matter

Chairman Cortelyou asked to be excused from an interview, but one of his close friends made the statement that the chairman undoubtedly has full authority to name a vice-chairman. "He has the same authority to name a vice-chairman that was given Chairman Hanna in the campaign of 1900," was the statement of this friend. Some Republican leaders who have been following the organization discussion of the last week with intense interest recalled, when the question of Mr. Cortelyou's authority was raised to-day, that at the time the national committee met immediately the national committee met immediately upon the adjournment of the national convention the statement was freely made that opposition to Mr. Cortelyou for the chairmanship was withdrawn, or repressed, because of the understanding that he would resign the chairmanship after the campaign resign the chairmanship after the campaign was over and let the committee choose to own head,

Those who are now contending that Those who are now contending that Chairman Cortelyou has no authority to name a vice-chairman, say that whatever authority was vested in the chairman, so far as the naming of officers was concerned, was for campaign purposes only, and that after the campaign was over he would merely continue to discharge the regular duties of a chairman, or resign, in which event the selection of a chairman would rest entirely with the committee.

While there is no positive evidence of

While there is no positive evidence of an impending clash between Mr. Cortelyou and the committee, it is apparent that the situation has become extremely delicate, to say the least, and that much depends upon the attitude assumed and the action taken by Mr. Cortelyou, who is understood to be insistent upon his right to name a vice-chairman and determined to do so within the next day or two.

JAPAN AND THE PHILIPPINES. Senate Discusses Hull's Interview as to the Future of the Islands.

WASHINGTON, March 17 .- Mr. Carmack of Tennessee caused an interesting diversion in the Senate to-day by having the secretary read a special despatch from Des Moines, Ia., quoting Representative John A. T. Hull as saying that the Japanese were anxious to acquire the Philippines and proposed to take steps to seize them | after the war with Russia was over. Mr. Carmack said the views expressed by Mr. Hull were concurred in by American naval officers in the Far East, who were unani mous in the pinion that Japan resented the intrusion of the United States in Asiatic affairs and was disposed to bring the question of controlling the Philippines to the test of arms. He presented a letter from Secretary Taft, recently published, as to the inability of the Filipinos to govern themselves and discussing the ultimate fate of the islands.

Mr. Lodge said that the interview with fr. Hull had not been confirmed and that he doubted its authenticity. At any rate if those were Mr. Hull's views he believed Hull was alone in entertaining Lodge offered an interview with ister Takahira of Japan, published to-day denying that Japan has any designs upon the Philippines.

Mr. Doniver said he questioned the accuracy of the alleged interview with Mr. Hull, and said that if Mr. Hull did utter such sentiments they did not reflect the opinion of the people of Iowa. Mr. Allison made a similar statement. "Well," said Mr. (armack, "I see that well," said Mr. (armack, "I see that it is going to be very uncomfortable in Iowa for Mr. Hull."

for Mr. Hull."

Mr. Spooner said he had no doubt that when the Filipinos reached that development where they could govern themselves independence would be given them, if they desired it. But however the Democratic and Republican parties might differ as to the wisdom of the acquisition of the Philippines or as to the policies in the meantims to be pursued toward them, there was one proposition, he declared upon which one proposition, he declared upon which they did not differ, namely, that there was no Government in the world that could take from the United States in the East or in the West anything which belonged to it." [Applause.]

JUST WHAT HULL SAID. DES MOINES, Ia., March 17.—Representa-ive Hull to-day repudiated the interview n which he was quoted as declaring that n which he was quoted as declaring that apan would seek to acquire the Philip-ines by purchase, failing in which she rould precipitate a war which would probawould precipitate a war which would proba-bly result in the acquisition of the islands. RUSSIAN PEASANT AGITATION. Chronic Shortage of Food Chief Cause of the Trouble

St. Petersburg, March 17.—The peasants' agitation is now general in all the grain provinces. Correspondents who have been sent to investigate the situation state that the chief cause of the trouble is the chronic shortage of food owing to the distribution of land not keeping page with the constant increase of the population, but the mobilization of troops and the return of penniless and disabled soldiers from the war have brought matters to a head.

The Socialists are now engineering the ovement. They have issued a notification to land owners that no work must be done on their land when sowing time comes The peasants are refusing to pay the land tax or to work out the money advanced to them during the winter. In the Baltic provinces laborers are refusing to feed the cattle unless there is an immediate redistribution

There is despondency everywhere over the Manchurian situation. The latest peace talk takes the form of a suggestion that China notify the powers interested in the integrity of that empire that the sufferings of the Chinese in Manchuria demand the cessation of the fighting. If the Powers acted on such a suggestion Russia, perhaps, would take advantage of it to extricate herself, but at present there is not the least evidence that the Czar is so disposed.

WASHINGTON, March 17 .- It is no probable that it will be found necessary, as was expected a few days ago, to stop work on the battleship Connecticut at the Brooklyn navy yard en account of the lack of funds. The naval bill passed by Congress included an amendment making it a dire offence for an officer to exceed his appropriation. It was recenty discovered that the appropriation for the training ship Cumberland at the Boston navy yar was running very low and work was stoppe until the beginning of the new fiscal year July 1. Senator Brackett's Insurance Bill Re ported With Amendment. ALBANY, March #7.—The leading members. of the Senate were in their seats to-day and a larger Friday attendance than usua was noticed. The Senate, however, was unable to transact business except by unanimous consent, in the absence of a quorum. The Senate's Committee on Insurance, reported favorably the bill of Senator Brackett, the object of which is to compet insurance companies to include in their policies the entire contract between the policyholders and the insurance companies. S nator Brackett has called upon the committee from time to time for a report, and the bill was sent back to the committee for another hearing after it had been reported. Several sharp debates have followed the efforts of Senator Brackett to have his bill reported. When the insurance committee met yesterdayan amendment was made providing that if the contract is not so attached "the insurance company shall upon de-mand funish complete copies of the papers so referred to to the insured or to any bene-ficiary or assignee or either of them in any matters appertaining to such insur-

After a refusal to comply with such ademand the State Superintendent of Insurance may, in his discretion, after a hearing, suspend the company's right to do business until copies are furnished. The bill will not affect mutual benefit fraternities. It is on the order of third reading and will come up for action next.

Senator Grady introduced a bill to permit New York city to grant land under the Harlem River to the Central-Hudson Railharem river to the Central-Hudson Rall-road Company to carry out the railroads' plan in improving its line at Spuyten Duy-vil and eliminating grade crossings. The Board of Estimate and Apportionment of New York is to have power to make conditions and sign contracts for the city.

Reply to Assemblyman Tompkips. William H. Maxwell has written to Assemblyman Leslie J. Tompkins in reply to the latter's attack on him in the Assembly on Thursday. Mr. Maxwell denies the statement attributed to Mr. Tompkins that the superintendent receives $25,000 a year in commissions for attaching his name to textbooks which he had never seen, and also the assertion that boys in the eight? grade study cooking for eighty minutes aday. Mr. Maxwell gives the time schedule of the grade to show that boys don't study cooking at all.
